

Fall 2010 Share Projection

This is our working projection for the fall share and what we base our plantings on. The weeks are listed across the top and crops are listed to the left. We've made an estimate of the value of each item and there is a number in the box that corresponds to the week we hope to give out the item and the number of "units" of that item we plan to give that week. The actual fall share will depend on weather, and how well each planting works, as well as when things actually mature, not when we want them to mature. Thanksgiving week we'll take a break, thus it has no items and is gray. This should at least give an idea of what types of vegetables we're growing, and roughly the size of a share each week.

Fall typically sees holdovers from the summer bounty and then transitions into cool season crops. Depending on how warm, how early frosts hit and how hard, that transition will happen. With frosts and cold weather extra sweetness is imbued in the roots and hearty greens.
